Diego Portillo Lopez
Certified Nursing Assistant

Diego Portillo Lopez works as a Hospice of the Red River Valley certified nursing assistant (CNA). In this role, he helps patients with personal care needs, including feeding, bathing assistance, shaving and nail care. But perhaps the most important aspect of his role is preserving the patient's dignity and respecting their wishes for personal cares, as he often spends the most time with a patient while providing the most delicate of cares.

He enjoys the relationships he has built and the work he does at Hospice immensely. "Every day I do the best that I can to the best of my ability. I really like to look ahead as well. I see myself at Hospice for a long time. I love taking care of people," Diego said.

He also believes in befriending each patient, which helps develop a caring relationship. "It makes our work much easier when the patient can feel the trust. Each and every one of our CNAs is gifted in their own way, and I can assure you there is always a CNA ready to take good care of our patients. They are all awesome," he said.
